Shadow of a Doubt

Film Proposal by: Lizi Fesler

3 Act Dance Film representing 3 stages of life

Part 1 - Childhood act titled "Beyond a Shadow of a Doubt"

Theme: Innate curiousity dance - fantasy, colorful, hopeful, confidence

🎵 or similar composition to: Shy - Brijs, Dandelion

Part 2 - Identity Search "Living in their Shadow"

Theme: Uncertainty, identity crisis, unknown, comparison, competition. Dance chereography - living in a shadow of another -> shadow puppet dance then they slowly start disobeying the puppeteer

🎵: Plus tôt - Alexandra Streliski

Part 3 - Acceptance act titled "5 o'clock shadow" or "[Un]afraid of my Own Shadow"

Theme: pushing the boundaries by pushing others away from puppet master. 5 o clock flashes on screen and most of the dancers leave. 9 o clock flashes on screen and they all come back with same movements as before, some won't follow but those that break away find happiness in new movement and the world becomes more colorful again

🎵: TBD maybe So it Goes - Hi Lo Jack, DAP The Contract, Lawrence, Stolen Jars

Visual style examples:

Simple to complex shadows https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=P-kPNbTv_Nc

Chereography has a lot of creative potential https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FYftvseVzuI

Confidence and depth of emotions in children https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=69A5LIBwXt4